2017
Printed publications catalogue

- Leaflets
- Books
- CDs
- Posters

Prices:
Once again we have kept our prices unchanged for 2017.

Leaflets: £4 for 10 or 50p each (‘Does Your Young Child Stammer’ are free for up to 10).

Other items: as marked.

Postage & packaging
20% will be added to all UK orders (minimum £1 maximum £30)

Speech and Language Therapists
Parents
Adults
Teenagers
Teachers

‘Stammering: Advice for all ages’
By Renée Byrne and Louise Wright

Aimed at adults, teenagers and parents of children who stammer, the book includes information about stammering, details of therapeutic approaches, advice, exercises, and contributions from people who stammer.
Adults

Leaflets

The adult who stammers
Guidance on defining the problem, being open, managing stammering and how to take control and get help.

The stutterer's survival guide
Nicholas Tunbridge has written this guide from the point of view of a person who stammers who has received treatment and is now maintaining fluency. This guide describes the technique Nicholas uses every day to get him through life both socially and professionally. 130 pages

£13.95

Stammering and employment - building communication skills
Guidance on preparing for interviews, talking about stammering, asking for support, legal rights and further information.

A stutterer's story
By Frederick Murray PhD. A personal account of what a severe stammerer undergoes – the shame, the loneliness and discouragement. But also, an objective professional description of what is known, and is being achieved in the field of stammering treatment. 165 pages

£7.95

Books

Coping with stammering
By Dr Trudy Stewart and Jackie Turnbull. A self-help book for adults who stammer who have questions and concerns and things they would like to change and cope with more confidently. 146 pages

£7.99

Self-therapy for the stutterer
Outlines a self-therapy programme, describing what stutterers can and should do to tackle their problem and control their stuttering. Used by leading British speech and language therapists to supplement their courses. 183 pages

£6.95

Not good at talking
By Tim Newark. A study of famous people who stammer, showing how some of them turned their speech impediment into a spur to success. A source of inspiration for people who stammer! 116 pages

£3.95

Advice to those who stutter
(To the Stutterer 2nd edition)
Practical advice by 28 male and female speech therapists who stutter, advising what helped them and what they believe will help others. Short, inspiring articles. 158 pages

£4.95

Audio CDs

Yoga relaxation therapy - relax and speak
Two audio CDs and accompanying booklet “uses yoga techniques of relaxation, meditation and yoga postures along with some modern practices of positive thinking and audio suggestion”.

£24.99
Teenagers

Leaflets

Teenagers and young adults who stammer – some questions answered
Simple but effective ways to speak more easily, to talk about stammering, and find out about therapy.

Books

Do you Stutter? A guide for teens
Written by seven leading speech therapists who give practical advice to teenagers. 80 pages.
£4.95

Sometimes I just stutter
By Eelco de Geus. A book for children between ages 7 and 12. This book is produced by The Stuttering Foundation of America and is highly recommended because of the easy way it is written, including letters from children and illustrations. 40 pages
£4.50

Parents

Leaflets

Does your young child stammer?
This booklet explains where to get advice if you are concerned about your child’s fluency, and how you can help your child to be more fluent when he/she talks.

Stammering: Advice for all ages
by Renée Byrne and Louise Wright. Aimed at both adults who stammer and parents of children who stammer, the book includes information about stammering, details of therapeutic approaches, advice, exercises, and contributions from people who stammer. 133 pages, 2008.
£8.99

Books

Stuttering and your child – questions and answers
For parents, teachers and others, wanting to help the child who stammers. Stuttering Foundation of America. 64 pages
£4.95
Teachers

Leaflet

The pupil who stammers, information for teachers
A good introduction with guidance on supporting both primary and secondary pupils who stammer and developing strategies to support their involvement in the classroom.

Book

Stammering: a practical guide for teachers and other professionals
Essential information and guidance about stammering, with reference to new government initiatives, case studies and practical activities which can be used in a class setting. Written by speech and language therapists from the Michael Palin Centre and the BSA’s education officer Cherry Hughes. (Fulton Publishers 2001) 128 pages

£19.95

DVD

Outspoken
The filming of a play about the challenges of stammering in adolescence. It describes the experience of Danny, a first year High School pupil who stammers. Although the DVD has a particular relevance to teachers in Scottish secondary schools, teachers across the United Kingdom may find the DVD of real interest as it deals with universal themes of difference, diversity and respect.

£7.50

Speech and Language Therapists

Leaflets

Dysfluency, stammering and Down’s syndrome
Many people with Down’s syndrome are dysfluent. This leaflet is designed to help understand the problem of dysfluency. It is for people who have Down’s syndrome, and people who care for and work with those who have Down’s syndrome.

Books

(from the Stuttering Foundation of America)

Stuttering words
An authoritative glossary of the meaning of the words and terms associated with the field of stuttering and its treatment. 64 pages

£4.95

Therapy for those who stutter
Outlines a programme for speech therapists working with adults or older adolescents. Written by speech therapists who have specialised in the treatment of stuttering. 117 pages

£4.95
The child who stutters: to the family physician
Guidelines for the family doctor – explains the difference between normal dysfluency and stuttering. Counselling ideas included. 10 page booklet which would also be useful for health workers, nursery nurses, etc.

£2.50

Stuttering therapy – transfer and maintenance
Discusses in depth the crucial role of transfer and maintenance and how they may be used to promote long-lasting therapy results. 112 pages

£4.95

Books

Stuttering – an integration of contemporary therapies
Explains how speech clinicians can combine the different but most commonly used treatment procedures to get effective results working with stutterers of all ages. 80 pages

£4.95

Effective counselling in stuttering therapy
This book helps the clinician have a better understanding of the counselling aspect of therapy and suggests ways to use it effectively. 80 pages.

£4.95

Anthology book

When the words won't come – inside the experience of stammering.
Poems, pictures and stories that show the inside experience of stammering of all ages - in the classroom, at home, at work, and on the telephone. It is an excellent resource to share with clients, family and friends

£3.00